

The Scottish Executive has set new standards that all councils must meet by 2015.

Homes must be free from serious disrepair, energy efficient with modern fittings, and healthy, safe and secure.

Edinburgh's investment in Council housing has been at an all time high over the past three years at a level of around £40m. We need to keep up this investment to meet the standards.

What will this mean for your rents and services?
What are your priorities?

We want to hear your views and invite you to an event on 22 September 2007 in the new Council HQ, Waverley Court, from 9am to 1pm to discuss the City of Edinburgh Council's options. This event is being jointly organised with Edinburgh Tenants Federation.

Improving Edinburgh's Council housing
